Happy New Years Jennifer,

A few years back my wife and I applied to be part of the Seniors Advisory Committee in Myrtle Beach. There were 2 seats open at the time and they were either held onto by the current members or were filled by other professionals. I see now that there are 3 additional seats available, and I would be honored to fill one of those positions to serve the area seniors.

I am a local real estate broker that opened my own brokerage a few months back; Beech Realty LLC. My business is based on helping seniors with the downsizing from their homes to either smaller homes or one of the local senior living communities. I have an entire team in place that helps the seniors through the process, and we all provide great discounts for the seniors and their adult influencers.

Most importantly, I am in business to help the families through the stressful times and hold their hands to guide them every step of the way. My top priority is putting the senior's needs first and I will always do what is in their best interest.

My wife Tracy Covone and I have each spent the past 10 years working in the senior living industry (and now real estate) and have a true passion for helping seniors. Customer service is a top priority of mine, and I have a long list of families that will provide rave reviews about how I go well above and beyond the normal service levels that are expected.

I am a responsible business owner and have lived in The Market Common for over 6 years. I am part of 2 senior networking groups here in the area and am well connected to all of the local senior living communities. I am very confident that I will be a tremendous asset to this Committee, and I welcome your reply or call with any questions or suggestions.

My past career had me in leadership positions across the country in several industries. I was a District Manager with the Save-a-Lot food chain for several years and then transitioned over to the senior living industry, where I held the position of Regional Director of Sales and Marketing for 2 different organizations. I have extensive leadership skills and know how to lead, follow and make an impact on teams I work with.

Please let me know if you need any additional information from me at this time, and I am more than ready to serve!

Enjoy a fabulous weekend,

Scott W. Beech, SRES
